We make it our business to know your business.

Since 1982, LeSaint has developed customized integrated supply chain solutions for our customers that help reduce total logistics costs, free working capital, reduce risk and improve customer service. While our customers represent a wide range of industries, they all have one thing in common—they expect us to understand their business and deliver high-performance logistics solutions designed to meet their unique needs and requirements.

Most of our customers have multiple manufacturing facilities, distribution points and suppliers. This creates high inventory turns and hundreds or thousands of different products or parts to handle. LeSaint is headquartered near Chicago in Romeoville, Illinois, with a growing network of warehouse and distribution facilities across the U.S. and Canada.
